Job Opportunity

Work in Australia, from Atlanta!

N(3) - NicheCubed - a marketing firm specializing in software and technology is seeking an Australian native for an immediate opening for a business development representative.

Based in Atlanta, you would serve N(3) clients in Australia in an account manager role. This is a full-time position, and would require the individual to work during Australian business hours.

Sales and technology experience not required but would be a plus.

Looking for a Unique Gift?

Give a little piece of Australia - really!

You're all 'consumered-out', and you have to buy that hard-to-find gift for someone who has everything.

For as little as US$10, this unique gift certificate will highlight an urgent ecological challenge, and will help the Australian Wildlife Conservancy to set up a critical private nature reserve at Pungalina-Seven Emu on Australia's Gulf of Carpentaria.

★ Please take a moment to read about this important challenge.

Kangaroo Meat, available in the USA

If you can get the thought of Skippy* out of your mind, you might like to try some genuine roo meat.

Kangaroo meat is ruby red and fine textured, and its flavour is similar to that of ostrich. Kangaroo meat has extremely low fat content and is best served rare or medium rare.

Purchase online at MarxFoods.com

(* Skippy is a loved marsupial of the 1960's Down Under television series "Skippy, the Bush Kangaroo" ... not to be confused with peanut butter)
